The Joan Mitchell Center would like to invite you to a closing reception for "New Works" by Artist in Residence Keith Duncan. The first floor gallery space of the JMC Studios will be open from 1 pm to 7 pm on July 10th, 2013, with light refreshments served from 5 pm to 7 pm.

Keith Duncan Artist Statement

The new works are discoveries and a creative process from the "autobiography becoming the iconography" and in search of seeing the image as a new invention or archetype. Much like an epic motion picture, my paintings attempt to bring about a dialogue in sensitivity, which will evoke feelings of the spiritual at work. With symbols, I want to produce a distinct language in narrative form that has literary, poetic, or narrative content. This is the basis of my surreal painting. My artworks, I feel, can be an anecdote or nostalgic reminder of the root and bases of most narrative art. Storytellers may come and go but the story itself never goes away. This is my new focus, local sub-cultures and folk-cultures, my new environment, my new aesthetics. Like many great American painters and storytellers, I am obsessed with the notion of revealing the source, strength, and mysticism of my region, the Deep South.

In order for us to accommodate everyone who would like to attend, we request that you RSVP by Monday, July 8th for this event to info@joanmitchellcenter.org.
