

FORT GANSEVOORT

ARTNEWS

9 Art Events in New York: Carmen Herrera, Sahra Motalebi, 'Painters of the East End,' and More for the Week of July 8, 2019

By The Editors of ARTnews

July 7, 2019

Jimmy DeSana, Untitled (Stephen Varble Performing Gutter Art with Onlooker), 1975, gelatin silver print. "A Look Back: 50 Years After Stonewall," Fort Gansevoort.

COURTESY THE ARTIST AND SALON 94, NEW YORK

THURSDAY, JULY 11

Opening: "A Look Back: 50 Years After Stonewall" at Fort Gansevoort

Last month marked the 50th anniversary of the Stonewall Uprising moment in 1969—a protest at a gay bar in New York that is widely regarded as the beginning of the Gay Liberation Movement. Alongside many other institutions and galleries hosting shows to honor the occasion, Fort Gansevoort has assembled a group show that combines work by queer artists of yesteryear and now. Alongside art by Joan E. Biren, Harmony Hammond, Greer Lankton, Barbara Hammer, and many more, curators Lucy Beni and Adam Shopkorn are showcasing work by Nelson Sullivan, who once ran a salon in the space now occupied by Fort Gansevoort that attracted local artists.

Fort Gansevoort, 5 Ninth Avenue, 6–8 p.m.