

FORT GANSEVOORT

The Guardian

Archibald prize 2022 finalists: Benjamin Law, Helen Garner, Taika Waititi and more – in pictures

By Guardian Staff – May 4, 2022

Self-portrait with dingo by Vincent Namatjira, Photograph: Mim Stirling/AGNSW

5 Ninth Avenue, New York, NY, 10014 | galleries@fortgansevoort.com | (917) 639 - 3113

FORT GANSEVOORT

The 52 finalists of the 2022 Archibald prize have been revealed by the Art Gallery of NSW, which also announced the packing room prize-winner: a painting of Taika Waititi by Claus Stangl, as judged by the gallery staff who unpack and hang the entries. Here is a selection of this year's finalists, including portraits by Anh Do, Wendy Sharpe, Vincent Namatjira and Kim Leutwyler. The full group can be seen at the gallery's website.

On 13 May the winning painting will be announced. The $100,000 prize is awarded to the best portrait of a person 'distinguished in art, letters, science or politics' painted by an Australian resident. The finalists for the Archibald, Wynne and Sulman prizes will be on show at the Art Gallery of NSW from 14 May